

Estomex Creations

by Niels Pustrom

I am originally from North Carolina, born to Estonian parents, but my family moved to Rumson, NJ in 1964. I became interested in Geology when I was attending Rumson-Fair Haven Regional High School, and have been a rock-hound ever since. It became aware to me that Brookdale Community College offered courses in jewelry making; something that I had wanted to do for many years.

That was over 10 years ago, and my love of jewelry making, and doing shows, has grown over the years. I use mixed metals, precious, semi-precious stones, unique mineral and fossil specimens to create my jewelry. Using my Estonian background and my wife's background from Mexico (Estomex), I design pieces that reflect both cultures.

Estomex Creations can be found on Facebook; along with pictures of past and present pieces that I have made. As well as a listing of where I have been, and where I will be in the future.
