

Inga Dankers

Artist & Weaver

Inga grew up in New Jersey and Newton, MA, but currently resides in Medfield MA, where she has a home studio.

Inga Dankers graduated from Northeastern University with degrees in Biology and Medical Technology. Even while pursuing a career in dental research in the medical diagnostics & business world, she always made taking art classes and workshops with leading artists a priority.

She studied at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, where she met Latvian artist Maris Platais. She continued her studies at the Danforth Museum School of Art as well as with resident & guest artists at many New England Art Associations around Boston, on Cape Cod, and the North Shore.

Inga is a member of ALMA - the American Latvian Art Association. She has participated and exhibited her works at many juried art shows at the Danforth Museum, Falmouth and Cape Cod Art Associations, Zullo Gallery and many Open Studios and Art Fairs.

Inga Danker's art is varied and impressionistic. She likes to dive in and work in various mediums - watercolor, pastels, mixed media, monotype printing, charcoal, acrylics, and oils. Her greatest thrill comes from painting landscapes, specifically saltwater marshes and fields.

Along with painting, Inga also discovered that she likes to expand her love of art into textiles. She has been custom designing and hand weaving on a rigid heddle loom one-of-a-kind-textured scarves that are selling under the name of Accent Pieces.

In her own words:

“My passion for drawing and painting started at a very early age and is something I carry with me wherever I go. Without art something is missing.”
